

Dear FCC, I have been a paying listener to XM satellite radio for approximately 18 months. I pay about $10 dollars a month to receive commercial free news, traffic, weather, and comedy I do not and cannot receive by my local FM broadcasts. I feel that if the National Association of Broadcasters feel threatened by the quality of satellite radio they should change the way they do things, not try to stop others successful business. I would like to respectfully urge you, the FCC to reject the NAB's petition 04-160. Please remember, I pay for a service that is not offered elsewhere and expect to continue to receive it in its entirety. Thank you for your consideration. Mackenzie Nesbit
